

ABSTRACT

This project entitled “Kisan Mithra” is a web oriented system. It has four modules farmer, customer, association and admin. Admin adds the rural associations to the application. The associations will view the request for auction sent by the farmers and announce the auction.

The farmers face a lot of problems in gaining right profit. They need to travel and sell their crops on regular basis by spending their money. It provides a solution to the farmers for crops and products, machinery hiring, searching for nearby markets and farming solutions, ordering of farming related materials and products.
